Seed Peace: Casey's Fund Supporting Farmers

Every single one of us depends on a farmer 3 times a day

Seed Peace is a nonprofit that connects farmers with resources

Family physician- message, call, or see in person	Free eye exams and glasses	Comprehensive preventative dental care
Free specialized mental health counseling	Alternative care such as yoga and massage therapy	Emergency grants for crops, gear or travel

The idea was born from tragedy, when Casey Piscura, a prolific young regenerative farmer was lost to suicide.

Because farming is done from a passion for serving people and caring for the earth, farmers face burnout, isolation, and financial stress, which contribute to mental problems such as depression and anxiety.

With Seed Peace, we can help take care of the people who feed us!

For Public:

Your donation, time, or voice can make a direct, life-changing difference.

For Farmers:

You don’t have to do this alone. Asking for help is a strength, and Seed Peace is here for you.

Video

Website